

division were given many opportunities to be called up to the BO Division as they were required.

At the draft, it was decided that the three teams formed would be competitive, and that it would prove to be a very fun division. At the holiday break, there were discussions about the imbalance of the teams with one team, Greco's, being at a bit of a disadvantage. There were, however, some injuries on the Greco's team that nobody could have predicted, and at that time, their team seemed to be getting more competitive. Thus it was decided to continue with the existing teams as they were set at the draft.

The playoffs were held as a 3rd vs 2nd semi-final which saw second place, Mathnasium defeat third place Greco's in a one game showdown. Next, it was Mathnasium moving on to face first place Skater's Edge, with Skater's Edge coming out on top, winning this division.

Big thank you goes out to Head Coaches Niko Gregorin, Erin Johns, Phillip Penna, and Carrie Culhane for all of their hours on and off the ice for this division.

Moving forward with this type of imbalance, it was suggested that in hindsight, perhaps the goalies should have been rotated throughout the three teams to try to bring some balance back. In the future, this could be looked at.

BO Division

This year, due to numbers across the U14, U16, U19, and Open divisions, it was decided at the annual draft to create a new BO age division this season, which combined those players that were of U19 and Open classifications. U16 players in the younger division were given many opportunities to be called up to the BO Division as they were required.

At the draft, it was decided that the three teams formed would be competitive, and that it would prove to be a very fun division. Teams were very small in numbers, and often players from the U16 division were called up to play. We wouldn't recommend teams this size again, as larger teams are reduced in size by players with school, work and family commitments.

The playoffs were held as a 3rd vs 2nd semi-final which saw second place, King Sportswear defeat third place Elk's Lodge in a one game showdown. Next, it was King Sportswear moving on to face first place Pascoe Rentals, with Pascoe Rentals coming out on top, winning this division.

Big thank you goes out to Head Coaches Ian McCulloch, Kelli Van Buskirk, and Barb Guay for all of their hours on and off the ice for this division.
